Geographical location

Canberra – the capital city

The capital of Australia was built specifically for this purpose in 1913 . This decision was made after the country's largest cities, Melbourne and Sydney, staged a real competition for the right to be considered the capital.

Fauna

Kangaroo

In Australia, there are about 200 thousand species of animals, and most of them are endemic - those who live only in a limited range and are no longer found anywhere on our planet.

Platypus

Crocodile

Parrots

Australian aborigines

The Australian continent was already inhabited by people before the arrival of the British, and the first aborigines appeared 50 thousand years ago.

Interesting facts

- Australia has strict environmental controls-it is even forbidden to import soil on the sole of shoes. Especially closely inspected at the entrance to the unique territory of Tasmania, even from the continent.
